

The Stockholm-Uppsala life science cluster

The Stockholm-Uppsala region contains Sweden's largest life-science cluster. Half of the Swedish industry community in life science, five universities and healthcare for nearly three million people can be found in this region.

Business community

50% of Swedish life science companies
1 200 companies
20 000 employees

Life science is the third largest investment industry in the region

- ✓ 29 individual investments
- ✓ 7.1 SEK 7.1 billion (17% of the total invested)

Healthcare

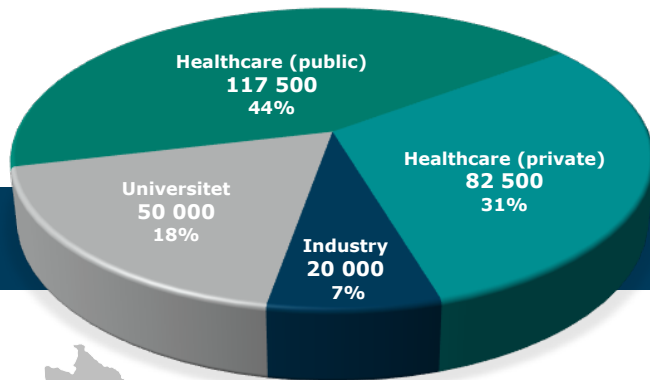

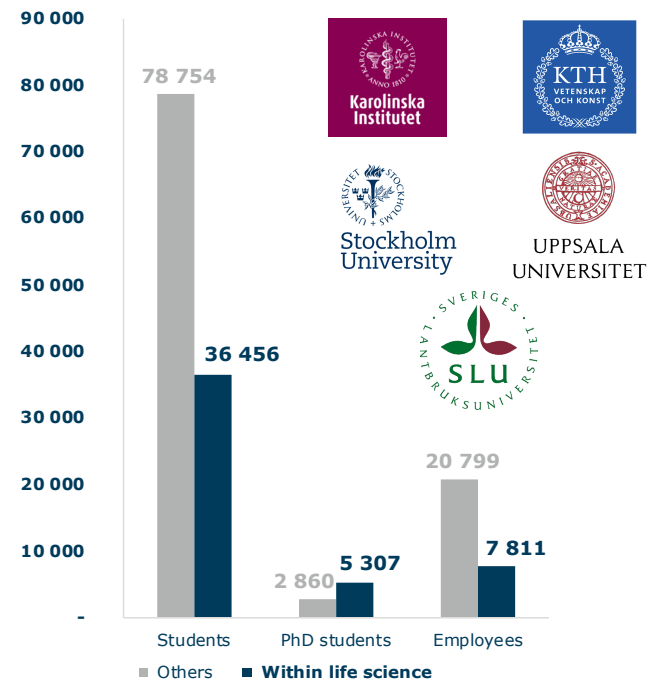

21 hospitals
3 university hospitals
121 billion SEK in state-invested capital turnover
200 000 active workers in healthcare
25 million doctor appointments
275 primary care centres
2 800 clinical researchers
#7 Karolinska University Hospital the world's seventh best hospital. (Newsweek 2021)

World-leading universities

50 000 people working in life science fields
152 000 people in total
25 billion SEK in funding
49 publications per day

Stockholm

- #4 Ranks 4th as a university city
 THEs global ranking, 2018
- #2 Ranks 2nd in Global Cities Talent Competitiveness Index 2018, INSEAD

270 000 people active in life science

The region

Stockholm is one of Europe's fastest growing capitals

- ✓ 3 international airports
- 2.9 million inhabitants
- ✓ 29% of Swedens population
- ✓ 2% with postgraduate education

The Swedish Medicines Agency is located in the region

- ✓ Home of several registers and biobanks

